Informant said that gambling operations continue in the pool room at 2111 West Lake Street in Melrose Park. This place is being managed by CHARLES MICHELETTI (ph.) (also not identical with CHARLES NICHOLETTI). Card games go on frequently at this location generally starting sometime after 10:30 p.m. and running as late as 6:00 a.m. the following morning. A few weeks ago one of the patrons of this place was beat up, which caused some trouble with the local police. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

Informant stated that [redacted] made a court appearance at Carpentersville, Illinois, about a month ago in behalf of ROCCO SALVATORE who received a traffic citation in that town. GANGSTER'S DRIVER FINED FOR SPEEDING

Uses Up All His Court Postponements

Rocco Salvatore, alias Bobby Dore, part time chauffeur and confidant of a crime syndicate boss, disregarded the law and it cost only $25, it was disclosed yesterday.

A fine of $15 and court costs of $10 were levied by Magistrate Donald T. Anderson of Carpentersville when Salvatore failed to appear in court for the second time.

Salvatore's bout with the law over a speeding ticket began last April 12 when State Policemen Wesley Johnson and Howard Pamplin arrested him for driving 76 m. p. h. in a 50 m. p. h. zone on U. S. highway 20, near the small community of Udina, near Elgin.

Near Battaglia's Farm

This is only a few miles from the 200-acre horse breeding farm of Sam [Teetz] Battaglia, No. 2 man in the Chicago mob, where Salvatore is an almost daily visitor.

Salvatore told the state troopers he lived at 1618 N. Merrimac av., Melrose Park, but didn't divulge his relationship with Battaglia.

When the case came up two weeks later before Magistrate Anderson, Sgt. Dominic Cinino of the Melrose Park police appeared instead of Salvatore. Cinino told the court that Salvatore deserved "a break" because of his excellent character and reputation and, besides, Salvatore needed his driver's license in his "business."

Police Learn Identity

Meanwhile, state police discovered Salvatore's identity. They notified State's Atty. William Ketcham of Kane county and the charge was reinstated July 25.

Salvatore showed up in Carpentersville and posted a $25 bond and asked for a continuance. Again, the case was set for yesterday.

But when the case was called, Salvatore was not to be found.

Instead, Angelo [Ribs] Jannotta, 542 N. Wood st., one of Battaglia's lackeys at the horse breeding farm, stepped forward.

Salvatore, Jannotta informed the court, was ailing in St. Anne's hospital and couldn't appear.

Magistrate Anderson refused to grant another continuance and levied the fine.

60-55-1887— 11/ 8/63 pg. 17

In a Tribune clip of February 1, 1961 ROCCO SALVATORE was identified as one of many hoodlums observed entering the North Avenue Steak House, 8500 North Avenue, while the place was under surveillance by federal agents.

In a Tribune clip of August 23, 1961 the Chicago Police Department chased ROCCO SALVATORE, who was driving SAM BATTAGLIA in Oak Park. It was indicated that SALVATORE was the driver for BATTAGLIA and is a juke box racketeer.

In a Tribune clip of November 2, 1962 ROCCO SALVATORE, 1114 N. Ridgeland, Oak Park, was being sought by the investigators of the Secretary of State's office. His auto license had been revoked because of fraudulent registration.

In a police list of September 26, 1963, the wake and funeral of MIKE SPRANZE, ROCCO SALVATORE was observed with other hoodlums.

Frank Parrillo, former licensee of the Charm Club, Inc., 1835 N. Broadway, Melrose Park, was convicted yesterday in federal District court on charges of having illegally refilled whisky bottles. Judge Richard Austin imposed a $125 fine.

Parrillo, son-in-law of Rocco Salvatore, a bodyguard and chauffeur for Sam [Teetz] Battaglia, operating boss of the Chicago mob, was indicted by a federal grand jury last Oct. 13. Salvatore reportedly used the tavern as a spot for meeting other mobsters and was on the payroll of the club, investigation disclosed. The club's liquor license was revoked last January by the Illinois Liquor Control commission.

The case against Parrillo was made by the treasury department's alcohol tax unit after the Federal Bureau of Investigation made a lengthy inquiry into a series of night spots reportedly involved in Battaglia's network of rackets in Melrose Park.
